The Move Process

Moving your office from one room to another or one building to another can be stressful under the best circumstances. This seminar will explain the process and inform you of the different areas that are involved in moving equipment and furniture, and how to coordinate all aspects of the move.

Why Fill Out a Move Packet?

Depending on the size and complexity of your move, you may need the services of one or more of the following areas: ITS Networking, ITS Telephone Services, Baylor Facility Services, Copier Services, Baylor Housekeeping, and outside contractors. There is a huge coordination of effort involved to make sure that your equipment, furniture, and other services arrive at the new location at relatively the same time to decrease the disruption of your work.

When To Fill Out a Move Packet?

When a computer and/or telephone is being moved from one jack to another, a move packet must be filled out. Usually all elements of the move can be handled with a single move packet, even if the move involves several employees. If only furniture is involved, a work order can be submitted through the Facility Services TMA System.

A move packet is not necessary if your office is getting new carpet and equipment needs to be moved out temporarily. If you disconnect your computer yourself, a color-code system works well, so that you know which cords came out of which jack and can be reconnected exactly as they were once the new carpet is in place.

Where to Find the Move Packet?

As soon as the details of your move are finalized, go to: <http://www.baylor.edu/movepacket/>.

The Move Committee

The Move Committee meets each Wednesday afternoon to review all requests for moving assistance and schedules them on a first-come, first-served basis. Scheduling is based on the number of requests and their complexity, along with the routine and special work requests.

Submit your completed move packet by 5 p.m. on Tuesday for consideration at the Wednesday Move Committee meeting.

The move committee meets every Wednesday to schedule the new move packets that have been submitted the prior week. Once the move has been scheduled, you will receive an email similar to the one below:

Your requested move

You will soon receive an Outlook “invitation” to schedule your move. You do not need to accept the invitation. However, if you need for the move to be rescheduled, please contact one of the names listed in the e-mail message and offer alternate dates for the committee to consider. Because of the number of moves and the availability of staff, we have given you the best available time.

Here are some important issues to keep in mind to make the move successful. It may be that not all details below apply to you, please select the ones directly related to your move.

1. Please be packed and ready at the appointed time. If furniture is involved, movers will arrive about one hour prior to the scheduled time, to start that part of the move. The technology staff should arrive at the scheduled time.
2. Someone who has access to all offices involved in the move and has knowledge of the details of the move must be available to allow those assisting with the move to have access into the offices and/or work spaces. If access is not available, the move will be rescheduled.
3. Anyone whose computer is moved must be available to log-on to their computer for ITS staff to update printer and system settings as needed. Laptop users will also need to provide their PGP disk-encryption password.
4. You may unplug your computers in preparation for a move.
5. Absolutely, do not unplug your phone in preparation for a move.

Some moves for computers and phones will be handled by contract workers from Technology for Education (TFE). They will have appropriate identification badges and will be accompanied by a Baylor employee.

If you have problems with this time or you have other questions about the move, please let me know. Thanks for your patience and understanding.

Next, you will receive a meeting invitation through email. The proposed date may not work with your schedule. If you have a conflict with the date, contact one of the people listed at the top of the invitation. The invitation will look similar to this:

 Be sure to read through this page thoroughly as it has been updated **

*Deanna Cox cox-deanna1@aramark.com
Donna Herbert Donna_herbert@baylor.edu*

Location

IT Services:

Plant Services:

Housekeeping Services:

Copy Services:

The invitation will list all of the services involved with your move. It is very important that one or more of the contact persons listed on the move packet be present during the move to answer questions and provide access to the offices involved. It is also important for the computer's owner to be present because they will be asked to log in once the computer reaches its new location.

Final Notes

- ♪ Please do not submit incomplete forms. If you have questions or are unable to complete the forms, contact anyone on the Move Committee.
- ♪ Please include all requests you have in the move packet. The staff moving phones and computers will not be able to take care of any “while you are here” requests without jeopardizing the moves of others scheduled after your move.
- ♪ It will be assumed that all equipment will be moved with the person moving. Additional instructions, such as phone number changes or swapping of equipment can be added to the packet. We will be glad to call and discuss them BEFORE arriving to conduct the move.
- ♪ Please make sure that the Primary Contact or the Alternate Contact person is present for the move so that any questions that arise during the move can be answered and access to the office is assured. Otherwise, the move will be cancelled and must go back to the committee for rescheduling.
- ♪ When your move is complete, please notify Human Resources of any physical moves that affect the location of an employee, as reported in the university directory. Information about a change of address (physical location, change of phone number and/or change of mailing address) should be sent to human_resources@baylor.edu.

Your attention to detail when filling out the move packet will go a long way to ensuring a smooth move. Don't hesitate to call anyone on the Move Committee if you have a question. We appreciate your cooperation and thoroughness in completing the forms.
